

FAQ ASTM AM

1) What is the ASTM AM Essentials Programme?

A professional certification programme in Additive Manufacturing (AM), aligned with international standards to equip participants with industry-relevant 3D printing knowledge and skills.

2) Who is this programme for?

Open to engineers, technicians, TVET instructors, and industry professionals looking to upskill or specialise in additive manufacturing.

3) What will I gain from this programme?

Participants will receive globally recognised certification, practical AM expertise, and enhanced career opportunities in advanced manufacturing.

4) How do I apply?

You can apply online via the programme page by completing the registration form and submitting the required details. Shortlisted applicants will be contacted for the next steps.

5) Is there a fee to join?

Yes, this is a certified professional programme with applicable fees. Please refer to the programme page for the latest fee structure and funding availability.